future

Due to a more globalized world, a good future for the student involves being able to act and live in a global context. An international mindset opens opportunities for the participants' career and life. It is ZBC's goal as an educational institution to develop tools for participants, teachers and other staff to contribute to a better global future. A strong set of standards will make sure ZBC can carry this mission out.

Vision: International educations that change the world

ZBC will change the participants' world through upgrading of qualifications and skills and personal development. You can change your own world by educating yourself and thereby gaining the job that will give you the life you want. Through education, you can also develop and influence the sector you work in.
